Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Division

- Division activities are supported by funding from the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration. Combined funding in 2006 provided over $5 million dollars of assistance to state enforcement efforts.
- A record number of inspections were completed. Indiana State Police inspected over 72,000 commercial vehicles last year, about 14,000 more than in 2005.
- The Division certified 25 additional non-division Troopers in the Motor Carrier Safety Assistance Program (MCSAP), which provides for additional traffic enforcement and roadside inspections for commercial vehicles. A total of 125 non-division Troopers actively participate in the MCSAP program.
- Division personnel participated in the Annual School Bus Inspection program. All public and private buses are checked at least once annually, while many are examined a second time during January and February if they 12 years old or older. Additionally, Troopers and MCI's perform several hundred random spot checks throughout the year.
- Motor Carrier Inspectors and Troopers received 100 portable breath test units, three crash reconstruction kits, and 120 computer communications software licenses for statewide use.
- The first MCI Recruit Academy since 2001 was conducted this year, which resulted in the addition of seven MCI's to patrol the Pendleton, Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Jasper, and Evansville Districts.
- Special enforcement projects undertaken by division personnel included participation in enforcement efforts on holiday weekends, as well as coordinated efforts with adjoining states to target commercial vehicles. The Division's Motorcoach Inspection Team conducted 123 through inspections on public passenger vehicles; their efforts identified 34 motorcoaches with violations that required them to be placed out of service. Division personnel also facilitated the safe escort of 537 Superloads in 2006; these movements require special safety and traffic considerations due to the size and weight of the loads.
- Technology advancements continue to allow personnel to conduct enforcement activities faster and more efficiently. Laptop computers are now equipped with air cards that allow for immediate connectivity to federal software and information resources, and roadside inspections can be uploaded to the Federal database at the time of a traffic stop.

Deputy Superintendent of Enforcement

A match revealed a child with the same name living in Indiana. Once alerted investigators located the elementary school where school officials positively identified the child victim. Following an interview with one of the victims, the suspect was identified but he had moved to Ohio. He was located and a search warrant was served. Records Division

- Increase in Disposition Cases
- Updating arrest records with final disposition has been the primary focus of the Indiana State Police Records Division and the Indiana Criminal Justice Institute. The strides made in this area become abundantly clear when comparing the number of arrest records updated with final disposition in prior years:
 - 2000: 15,723
 - 2001: 51,792
 - 2002: 107,378
 - 2003: 150,782
 - 2004: 172,046
 - 2005: 139,122
 - 2006: 165,260
- Increase in % Livescan arrests (percent of criminal history)
- The number of arrest records received via Livescan as a percentage of total arrest records increased from 65% in 2002 to 86% in 2006. Not only are these records making it into the Central Repository through a single point of data entry, but they arrive here instantly, where they can be made available to the local prosecutor in "real time" at the point of arrest.
- Livescan entry also dramatically reduces the total data entry workload for the Criminal Records section. Even though total arrests have increased from 153,240 in 2002 to 206,795 in 2006 (35% increase) – the number of ink cards manually entered by ISP Records Staff has dropped from 54,272 in 2002 to 28,219 in 2006 (48% decrease).
- Online Criminal History
- Requests for Limited Criminal History have increased every year, from 312,468 in 2002 to 535,221 in 2006 for an increase of 71% over that time. Even though the requests continue to increase, the work for Criminal Records decreases every year. Requests performed manually by ISP Records personnel have dropped every year from 191,048 in 2002 to 110,539 – a decrease of 42%.
